PROFILE

I'm a Copenhagen based Web developer. Always trying to stay tuned with the new techs within the industry, and in constant pursuit of challenges. I have a solid background on WordPress, efficiently divide my tasks and manage them according to the deadlines. I'm a team player, good at solving problems to everyone's satisfaction, motivated, adaptable, and work well under pressure.

EDUCATION

HackYourFuture, Copenhagen

September 2019- July 2020

During the course at HYF I learned a modern JavaScript full-stack as well as working together and collaborating with a team on the same project, solving the problems we faced, communicating with all other students and mentors, debugging process, and testing the code we write.
